October Show

We hope you had a chance to enjoy our Plein Air Festival. The response from the community was overwhelming and we were able to showcase local artists with Beaver Dam area locations in the paintings.

Our next show is a dual show. We have our Community Art Project and a retrospective of our very own Judy Beyer.

Community Art Project

The Community Art Project brings together 6"x6" squares painted by members and non-members alike into a giant tapestry. During the exhibit, each square is sold for $20. Everyone gets a square, but you get a random square based on your ticket number. You might get an up-and-coming artist or a well established artist. That's the Fun! Either way you are supporting the arts and the Dodge County Center for the Arts.

Judy Beyer - A Retrospective

Join the DCCA as we celebrate and honor one of our most treasured artists and tireless volunteers with a retrospective on her career spanning many decades. You will be able to see work in watercolor, acrylic, pastels and alcohol ink.

Judy will also have copies of "My Story Wall" to purchase and have autographed. The book was created to help stimulate and document important lifetime memories that can help guide senior family members in storytelling for future generations.

Thanks to our October show sponsors—Jim & Ruth Metz.

Building Updates

Thanks to Dennis Giese and Karen Tomko, our old roof is being replaced with a brand new one. Then on to painting the exterior. Our resident handyman Chuck V. has been helping us with the interior work. Every day brings new challenges and new successes. Thanks to all our volunteers.

We Love our Volunteers!

We are working toward having regular shows as well as involving the youth and other community organizations in classes. If you want to help on a committee, serve on the board or just volunteer, give us a call at (920) 341-6278 or email info@bdaaa.org.
